In September 2002 Xerox Media Technology Centre Europe carried out an endurance testing of recycling papers against woodfree papers.

The papers were compared for runnability, machine contamination, and basic physical properties and how these indicators influence the machine performance. The results are:

Identical printer product life-time
Identical service intervals
Identical maintenance costs

Merely recycling papers labelled with the trademark "Blauer Engel" were tested on Xerox Monochrome Printers.
